

Plurality & Psychotherapy Training: 2024 - 'Terms & Conditions'

Registration and participation in an online training course provided by Felix J. Lefevre of Variant Counseling LLC is subject to the following terms and conditions:

Attendee's Professional Training & Qualifications Requirements

By registering for this training, you are asserting that you:

- will be, at the time of attending the training, licensed or otherwise legally qualified and permitted to practice as a mental health professional; or
- will, at the time of attending the training, be enrolled in or have graduated from a professionally recognised mental health educational or training program

Course Participation & Materials

You are registering for a live training, delivered via a virtual video conference platform. As an attendee of this training, the following will be sent to the email address you provide via the training registration form:

- A web link for accessing the live training via video conference platform, during the day and time that the training is scheduled to take place
- A web link for accessing additional training materials, which may include one or more digital informational handouts, a digital list of resources for further learning and information, and a digital copy of the training presentation slides. You will have access to these additional training materials for an additional period of four (4) weeks following the end of the training. You may not be able to access the training materials after this time.

In the event that you are unable to locate the email containing these web links, please check your email platform's spam or junk mail folder.

Professional Requirements of Training Attendees

This training is meant to provide information which may be professionally useful and relevant to mental health professionals. However, Felix J. Lefevre and Variant Counseling LLC cannot and do not issue CE credits to attendees of this training.

Registration or participation in this training does not in any way constitute, imply, or establish the offer or provision of medical advice or opinion, or legal advice, and does not establish a provider-patient relationship. Felix J. Lefevre and Variant Counseling LLC will not be held responsible and will be excluded from liability for any loss or damage whatsoever that you or another person may suffer in connection with this clause.

By registering for this training, you are acknowledging that licensed professionals subject to supervisory requirements by mental health board approved supervisors or supervisor training providers in order to maintain their license to practice are provided no supervision by this training, and that this training is not a substitute for meeting these supervisory requirements.

Licensed professionals subject to supervisory requirements are solely liable for ensuring that they meet supervisory requirements. Felix J. Lefevre and Variant Counseling LLC will not be held responsible and will be excluded from liability for any loss or damage whatsoever that you or another person may suffer in connection with this clause.

Payment

The training registration fee is payable at the time of registration, and your credit card will be debited for the full training fee at the time of Registration.

Your registration fee for this training is non-refundable, unless the training itself is canceled. By registering for this training, you are asserting that you will not be entitled to a refund or credit of the training registration fee, including in the event that you choose not to attend the training or are unable to attend the training.

Variant Counseling LLC uses a third-party banking merchant to process payments of the training fee and, in these circumstances, your use of these payment facilities may be subject to the terms and conditions of the third-party banking merchant.

Felix J. Lefevre and Variant Counseling LLC will not be responsible and will be excluded from all liability, for any loss or damage whatsoever that you or another person may suffer in connection with the use of the third-party banking merchant.

Cancellation and Termination

Felix J. Lefevre and Variant Counseling LLC reserves the right to cancel, in their sole discretion, any training. In the event a training is canceled, you will be contacted and the training fee will be refunded as soon as practicable.

Your registration for this training may be terminated, if in the reasonable opinion of Felix J. Lefevre or Variant Counseling LLC you have breached the terms and conditions outlined in this document. If your registration is terminated:

- You are no longer authorized to access this training or any associated training materials;
- You will continue to be subject to and bound by all restrictions imposed on you by these terms and conditions; and
- All permissions granted by you and all disclaimers and limitations of liability set out in these terms and conditions or elsewhere on the Variant Counseling LLC website or in other documentation or correspondence provided by Felix J. Lefevre or Variant Counseling LLC will survive termination.
- If your registration is terminated due to the reasonable opinion of Felix J. Lefevre or Variant Counseling LLC, you will not be entitled to a refund or credit of the training registration fee.

Privacy and Security

Personal information that you enter into the registration form at the time of registration will be collected and maintained. Your personal information will not be sold to third parties without your express written agreement.

You acknowledge that Felix J. Lefevre or Variant Counseling LLC may disclose your personal information, including your name, location and professional title (if applicable) to Trainers and co-sponsors (if applicable).

Any material that you may provide in connection with this training via the virtual video platform, or via any other medium or delivery method, including content and information, written text, papers, graphics, images, photographs, or any other form of expression, will be at your personal discretion. If you choose to share any such material, you acknowledge that neither Felix J. Lefevre nor Variant Counseling LLC are liable for the access, use, or association with you of this information.

Intellectual Property

Felix J. Lefevre and Variant Counseling LLC reserve all present and future rights anywhere in the world in relation to copyright, trade marks, designs, patents or other proprietary rights, or any rights to registration of such rights whether existing before or after registration, in all material, content and information, including but not limited to files, written text, papers, presentations, books, graphics, images, photographs, logos, trademarks, audio material, video material and any other forms of expression on the Variant Counseling LLC website and in the training.

By accepting the terms and conditions, you are granted a non-exclusive, non-transferable license to:

- View;
- Print pages from; and
- Download additional training materials.

You must not, without the prior written consent of Felix J. Lefevre or Variant Counseling LLC, which may be withheld in their absolute discretion:

- Copy, republish, reproduce, duplicate, extract or create derivative works from
- Reverse assemble, reverse compile, or otherwise translate
- Re-distribute, sell, rent or license; or
- Edit, modify or vary in whole or in part, any content from the training, training materials and/or the Variant Counseling Website.

Conduct & Acceptable Use

In registering for this training, you acknowledge and agree that you will not use, or cause any virtual platform facilitating this training to be used, in any way which:

- Breaches any part of the terms and conditions;
- Infringes Felix J. Lefevre's, Variant Counseling LLC's, or any third party's intellectual property rights;
- Is fraudulent, illegal or unlawful;
